PROUD TO BE SUPPORTING BASEBALL IN WESTERN AUSTRALIA

STAFF PROFILES

Marty Parn: Patron

Marty first played baseball in the late 60's after serving in the army for two years, playing for Nedlands/Dalkeith. This is where he met baseball icons Rod Byrne and Neville Pratt.

After the demise of the Nedlands/Dalkeith team, Marty moved clubs and played for East Fremantle under head coach, Joe Hughes, who he still remains in contact with.

The years that followed Marty was very work orientated, with 12 years with the Department of Corrections, serving at Fremantle Prison (1968/73) Assessment and Records, Bartons Mill (1973/75) PTI and records officer Broome (1975/77) and West Perth WRC (1978/80).

He formed his own company, Midwaste, in 1980 and after 21 years sold his company to Brambles/Cleanaway.

During this period, Marty (1991) became involved in sponsorship with the Perth HEAT, mainly due to the late Kerry Lehane. Midwaste also got involved for two seasons with West Australian Baseball League (WABL) know as the Super League and they played as the Midwaste Hornets.

He was involved with numerous sponsorship and charity organisations. One big notable was the Swan Football Club in which Marty was major sponsor. Marty was the reason the Perth HEAT came out of receivership in 1998 when he combined resources with Doug Mateljan, GM of the HEAT at the time. Marty played a key role that moved the HEAT to play their home games at Bassendean Oval for the 1998/99 season.

After the 1998/99 season the ABL competition ceased and Marty retained the Perth HEAT name.

Marty further remained in contact with baseball and sponsored local clubs such as Victoria Park, Perth, Swan Districts (whom he is a Patron of), Port Hedland and Kalamunda Rangers Junior Baseball.

In the year 2000 Marty was awarded the Australian Sports Medal for his services in baseball.

In 2004, after travelling throughout the USA and watching MLB games, Marty returned home and wandered down to Swans Districts Baseball Club and caught up with Shane Tonkin and within weeks the management team, consisting of Marty, Geoff Hooker and Shane Tonkin, saw the resurrection of the Perth HEAT brand. Marty still remains the owner of the Perth HEAT name and remains the Patron of the HEAT. Marty gets his inspiration from his lovely wife Suzanne. They have been married for over 40 years and have three children, Michael, Matthew and Josephine. They also have five grandchildren Madison, Marshall, Willow, McKenzie and Ashton.

Geoff Hooker: CEO

A key part of the management team that reintroduced Perth HEAT to Australian Baseball in 2005, Geoff Hooker has been the Managing Director of Baseball WA and CEO of Perth HEAT since 2008.

Geoff began his baseball career in 1980 playing for the Wanneroo Teeball Club before his natural progression to the Wanneroo Baseball Club from 1982-88. From 1989-93 Geoff attended Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Oregon where he played baseball and was a member of the 1990 NAIA World Series team.

Upon his return to Perth, Geoff continued his playing career with Victoria Park Baseball Club from 1995-2000 and then UWA Baseball Club from 2000-09.

As Baseball WA's General Manager, Geoff was instrumental in the establishment of the elite baseball/softball Diamond Sports Academy, the introduction of the BWA Competitions Department and many other reforms to the way baseball operates in WA. While fulfilling his baseball commitments to Baseball WA and the Alcohol Think Again Perth HEAT, Geoff is also the Managing Director of his family's business, Fielders Choice, who are the largest suppliers of baseball, teeball and softball equipment in Australia. Through Geoff's savvy business techniques he has resurrected the game back to an elite standard and is one of the great personalities that head baseball in WA. The Australian Baseball Federation recognised Geoff's outstanding contribution to baseball in Western Australia and Australia when he was awarded "Administrator of the Year" at the Australian Baseball Diamond Awards (BADA) this year. Geoff and wife Nicky have two children, Zoe and Zac.

Craig Hamer-Mathew: GM

Victorian native Craig Hamer-Mathew has devoted his career to sport. The Ballajura resident was most recently GM of Softball WA, a post he held for nearly three years. In this capacity, Craig was charged with strategic planning, marketing partnerships, government relations, event and facility management and human resources. He presided over a significant financial turnaround for the organisation and substantial growth of the sport in WA. Craig was also responsible with the establishment of a high performance academy. Prior to his work in softball, Craig enjoyed a six year tenure with the WA Football Commission as the Pilbara Regional Football Development Manager. He spearheaded the delivery of a new district model and engineered extensive growth in club level participation, while also managing partnerships and community based football programmes. A devoted arcade collector, Craig loves restoring pinball machines. He earned his Bachelor of Business Degree with a double major in Sports Management and Marketing from Edith Cowan University. Craig is the father of Dylan 14, Blake 11 and Megan 9.

Lachlan Dale: AsstGM, GM – BWA

West Australian native Lachlan Dale has already assembled an impressive resume of achievement in the sports world both as an athlete and businessman. Lachlan played four seasons of professional club-affiliated baseball in the US for the San Diego Padres organisation ascending to the team's Fort Wayne A affiliate. In 2005, he earned MVP honours at the Padres Spring Training and in 2004 was selected in the US – Northwest League Allstar Team. Lachlan represented Australia on the global stage. A standout member of the Australian 2001 AAA team, Taiwan, he was part of the training squad that stunned the sporting community at the 2004 Athens Olympics by downing superpower Japan for the Silver Medal. Lachy was also a member of the 2005 World Cup Squad. He played junior club ball with Swan Districts and with the WA State Under 16 and 18 teams. Other notable achievements in Lachy's playing career include a five-year stint with the Western Heelers and the past four years with the Perth HEAT. Off the diamond, the golf enthusiast has enjoyed a successful sales career, most recently in the sporting goods industry. He was the state sales manager for Infinity Sports, steering the growth of the Wilson Golf brand in WA. Prior to assuming this post in October 2009, Lachlan was a business manager with the Vita Group. He posted a three year tenure with the Telstra Pro-Active Sales Group from November 2006 to June 2009, where he was tasked with managing a team of 15 sales professionals. Lachlan has been appointed assistant general manager of the HEAT, the team with which his playing career began in 2001.

Travis Kalin: Marketing and Media Manager

American-born former Minnesota Twins minor league player, Travis Kalin's first experience with the HEAT was as a spectator in 2005. Having roomed with Luke Hughes while playing for Gulf Coast League Twins, he came to Perth to play for Gosnells in 2005. Travis played four seasons of professional baseball for the Minnesota Twins and was also a college infield coach for Rollins College for two years. While in Perth, Travis met his fiancé, Tegan Baron who is the brother of Alcohol Think Again PERTH

HEAT pitcher, Liam Baron and having fallen in love with Perth, Travis received residency in 2007 taking up his current position of Media and Marketing Manager for Baseball WA and the HEAT by late 2008. Travis joined the Swan Districts State League Baseball team and has been a regular member for the past three years. He was also the Coach of the Country Cavaliers Little League team that competed on the Gold Coast this year.

While working full-time in the HEAT front office, Travis is also attending Curtin University, completing a degree in Marketing and Advertising.

Steve Fish: Development Manager

Steve Fish is a former professional baseball player and coach from the USA. He spent five seasons with the LA Angels and was also their minor league player of the year in 1998. Following his professional career, Steve played two stints for the Wanneroo Giants in 2003 and 2008 where he was named Baseball WA's fairest and best both years. Steve is currently the coach of the Wanneroo Baseball Club who won the State League championship in 2008/09 season. Currently Steve is the "Go for 2&5" Development Manager at Baseball WA.

Sue Reid: Office Administration

Sue is a member of the Alcohol Think Again PERTH HEAT and Baseball WA teams and contributes to the management and day-to-day operations of both organisations.

In the past, she has been the President of the Melville Braves Baseball Club and a Director on the Board of Directors for Baseball WA.

She has been the EO for the U18s and U23s State Teams and the Perth HEAT and has recently been appointed the High Performance Coordinator for the State Teams Programme.

Sue is the editor of the Inside HEAT Baseball magazine and adds her expertise in the field of graphic design for all forms of print and electronic media.

Sue's experience and knowledge of both the HEAT and of the sport of baseball within WA plays a important role in assisting with the identifying, coordinating and development of practical components of both the HEAT and Baseball WA.

Megan Venables: Ticketing

Megan is part of the Alcohol Think Again PERTH HEAT office and is involved in ticketing and membership.

Born in South Africa, Megan's family moved to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, where they would spend three years before settling in Kalgoorlie, WA. After completing her secondary education in Kalgoorlie, she moved to Perth to further her education in the area of Accounting and Sports Management at Curtin University of Technology.

Megan's love of sport saw her School Captain of the Associated Catholic Colleges swim team, Captain of her Netball Junior Premier League team and Vice-Captain of the Volleyball team in the State Schools Cup. In the second year of her degree, Megan is also trying her hand at managing athletes for Frontier Sports Management, an area of interest for Megan.

Ben Cameron: Staff Writer

A proud West Australian and self-confessed sport and baseball tragic, Ben joined the HEAT team in July as the staff writer and media assistant.

He graduated from St Stephen's School in 2009 before studying a double major in Screen Arts and Journalism at Curtin University of Technology.

Ben spent the winter covering the State Basketball League final's action for SBL.com and has spent time at Channel 10 undertaking work experience but said he is most excited about covering the 2010 ABL season on perthheat.com.au and 91.3 sportsfm.

Lisa Comito: Public Relations

Lisa joined the HEAT team in late July 2010 as a part of the ECU Industry Placement Programme bringing experience from other placements at the WAFL Commission, Softball WA, Loftus Recreation Centre, and Kingsway Recreation Centre.

Currently in her third year of a Bachelor of Sport, Recreation and Event Management at Edith Cowan University, Lisa had previously completed a Diploma in Public Relations in 2007 at Central TAFE.

Barbagallo Ballpark is the home of baseball in WA and is located at Tom Bateman Reserve, Thornlie. It was built in 2004, and has a seating capacity of 1,200 and standing room for a further 4,500. This is the first baseball-exclusive stadium in Perth since the demolition of Parry Field in the mid 1990s. Formerly known as

Baseball Park, it was the venue of the 2007 Claxton Shield, which ran from the 19th to 27th January 2007. Baseball Park underwent further expansion in 2007. The upgrades provided increased corporate facilities and public seating. In 2010, the facility underwent further upgrades between the end of the 2009-2010 Claxton

Shield season and the start of the ABL, which is set to begin in November 2010. The upgrades included a new, permanent, terraced bar, a batter's eye in centre field and an electronic scoreboard, while the outfield fences were also brought in to help fix the shortage of home runs at the venue in previous Claxton Shield seasons.

Furthermore, an enclosed members area, numbered seats, an improved playing surface, upgraded corporate boxes, fences around the terraces and a new gameday office building were part of the improvements. Baseball Park is now called the Barbagallo Ballpark and is the home of the Alcohol Think Again PERTH HEAT.

ALCOHOL AND YOUR HEALTH

It's important to remember that harmful drinking can occur in the short-term (drinking too much on one occasion), or in the long-term (drinking too much on a regular basis).

In March 2009, the National Health and Medical Research Council released the Australian Guidelines to Reduce Health Risks from Drinking Alcohol. The 2009 guidelines focus on health risks accumulating over a lifetime from alcohol use.

The guidelines also establish clear advice on how to minimise the harmful health consequences of regular alcohol consumption in both the short-term and the long-term (that is harm that may occur as a result of one drinking occasion and harm that may occur as a result of a longer period of drinking). There is no level of drinking that can be guaranteed to be completely safe.

Australian guidelines to reduce health risks from drinking alcohol

GUIDELINE 1: For healthy men and women, drinking no more than two standard drinks on any day reduces the lifetime risk of harm from alcohol-related disease or injury.

GUIDELINE 2: For healthy men and women, drinking no more than four standard drinks on a single occasion reduces the risk of alcohol-related injury arising from that occasion.

GUIDELINE 3A: Parents and carers should be advised that children under 15 years of age are at the greatest risk of harm from drinking and that for this age group, not drinking alcohol is especially important.

GUIDELINE 3B: For young people aged 15-17 years, the safest option is to delay the initiation of drinking for as long as possible.

GUIDELINE 4A: For women who are pregnant or planning a pregnancy, not drinking is the safest option.

GUIDELINE 4B: For women who are breastfeeding, not drinking is the safest option.

Knight, Brooke

Having previously worked as an assistant coach for the then named, Western Heeler's, Brooke Knight is not new to the idea of coaching in Western Australia and brings a wealth of Baseball experience and an impressive coaching record to the job.

The two-sport Football and Baseball athlete at Division one Oregon University pursued a professional Baseball playing career with both Milwaukee and Pittsburgh before turning his hand to scouting when he did so for Montreal and Florida and finally settling with coaching when joined the Corvallis Knights.

Knight's joins the HEAT after three years spent at the Corvallis Knights in the West Coast League where he led the Knight's to three WCL West Division Championships and a West Coast League title. With Knights at the helm Corvallis have posted the league's best record for three consecutive seasons. He has registered a 125-48 record with the Knight's across the three seasons and was named WCL coach of the season for both 2008 and 2009.

Knight's has signed on with the HEAT on a one-year contract for the 2010/11 season.

ALLAN DE SAN MIGUEL

DOB: 1 February 1988
Height / Weight: 182cm / 88kg
Bats / Throws: Right / Right
Position: Catcher
Pro/College: Minnesota Twins (2005- pres)
Debut: Claxton Shield 2006
Club: Gosnells Hawks

2006: At the young age of 17 Allan made his debut and was ostensibly the understudy catcher to Kent Dixon. He made the most of his limited opportunities with four walks and a hit batter giving him an impressive on base percentage of .600. While in America de San Miguel played 71 games with Minnesota 'A' level Beloit Snappers but the 18-year-old's bat was still developing with a .208 average.

2007: Allan was named the No.1 catcher. De San Miguel had 15 at bats and his .200 average was bettered by only two HEAT teammates. The Australian selectors showed faith in the youngster when he was selected to play with the AROOS after Claxton Shield. Allan then played the 2007 winter with Minnesota's 'A' level Beloit Snappers where, to patter, his defence clearly overshadowed his offence.

2008: He was a key component of the HEAT's stunning "worst to first" championship triumph. While the HEAT's pitching staff earned most of the rave reviews for their dominant performances, it was not overlooked that it was de San Miguel calling the shots behind the plate, providing terrific defence and shutting down opponent's running games. On top of that, also produced his career best numbers with the bat, combining a .273 batting average with an excellent .418 on base percentage. During 2008 de San Miguel earned promotion to Minnesota's Advanced 'A' Fort Myers after batting .269 in 45 games for there 'A' team Beloit Snappers.

2009: Allan took an extended break before re-joining the HEAT team for the latter part of Claxton Shield 2009. He initially shared the catching duties and a designated hitter role with Chris House, before taking over as the No.1 Catcher for the grand final series. Not only was he impressive with the glove, but he also delivered a very healthy .308 with the bat and his .441 on base percentage was a most valuable contribution to the HEAT's back-to-back Championship team. De San Miguel split his time between four levels of the minor league system starting the season playing for the Beloit Snappers and making his way up to Triple-A Rochester Redwings. Through the four levels de San Miguel batted .229 in 63 total games.

2010: Played in 19 games for the HEAT. De San Miguel split time behind the plate and at designated hitter. He batted .262 with eight doubles. In America de San Miguel once again split time between three levels Triple-A Rochester Redwings, Double-A New Britain Rockcats and ended the season playing for High-A Fort Myers Miracle. De San Miguel batted .166 in 87 games between the three levels but batted well in Double- A hitting .217

CHRIS HOUSE

Born: 13 February 1989
Height / Weight: 181cm / 84 kg
Pro/ College: Toronto Blue Jays (2006-2010)
Debut: Claxton Shield: 2009
Club: Morley Eagles

2007: In the US batted .179 (10-for-56) with one homer and 10 RBIs in 23 games for the GCL Blue Jays. ... Homered and drove in three runs in his next-to-last game on Aug. 25. ... Struck out 26 times in 56 at-bats.

2008: In the US hit .222 (16-for-72) with four RBIs in 28 games with Class A Short-Season Auburn. ... Suffered a 1-for-28 slump between July 14 and Aug. 17.

2009: Hit the Claxton Shield scene with quite a spectacular debut. He started the competition as HEAT's No.1 catcher and, while his defence was sound, his batting was a revelation. The consistent left-hand hitter pounded a mighty .356 batting average and a .542 slugging percentage in the preliminary games, the second best average on the HEAT team. On the basis it was controversial that he was set aside for the first two games of the Grand Final when de San Miguel took over the catcher's glove, he may have carried extra motivation to prove selectors wrong when he was finally reinstated as the designated hitter for the deciding game three of the series. House stepped up to deliver a game breaking-two run homer in the fourth inning which proved vital in the HEAT's narrow 3-2 win. Just after his 20th birthday Chris House had a Claxton Shield winner's medal to show for his debut campaign in Australian major league baseball. In America played for the Lansing Lugnuts of the Low-A Toronto Blue Jays. House hit .218 in 29 games.

2010: House split time behind the plate, designated hitter and left field. He appeared in 22 games and hit the winning home run against Queensland in game two. House batted .187(14-75) and belting two homeruns.

DEAN WHITE

Born: 12 February 1983
Height / Weight: 191cm / 90kg
Bats / Throws: Right / Right
Pro/ College: Atlanta Braves (2001- 2005)
Debut: Claxton Shield: 2001
Club: Swan Districts

2001: Dean White was 17yo on Australia's Olympic Athlete Programme when he was invited to join the Australian team for the 2001 IBLA season. In ten appearances White batted a most respectable .290 and he showed great promise.

2003: White batted .158 in 19 at bats in the Claxton Shield while playing third base. In America, White batted .227 for the Rookie-Danville Braves.

2004: HEAT's starting shortstop White batted .250 with six strikeouts included in his 20 at bats. In America Dean graduated to 'A' ball with the Braves' organisation.

2005: As HEAT's starting shortstop White posted a .350 on base percentage. In America White then spent another season with Atlanta's 'A' team Rome Braves.

2006: White was the HEAT's regular third baseman and leadoff batter and had a terrific 3-5 effort against NSW. He managed only 1-23 for the remainder of the tournament while striking out six times.

2007: White made the move from infielder to pitcher and made two appearances on the mound and one appearance as a first baseman. He posted a 2.25 ERA in four innings pitched, while going 0-3 at the plate.

2008: White played a key role in the HEAT's success of going from "worst to first". He played the role of utility infielder and also relief pitcher. On the mound White posted a 3.00 ERA in three appearances and batted .200 (2-10) with two doubles.

2009: Played the same role as the 2008 season posted an impressive 0.00 ERA in five appearances and batted .273 as the utility infielder.

2010: Played the same role as the previous two seasons and in four appearances posted a 3.12 ERA while striking out six batters. At the plate posted a .188 average in 16 at-bats.

MARK KELLY

Born: 18 April 1984
Height / Weight: 195cm / 93kg
Bats / Throws: Right / Right

Pro/College: Philadelphia Phillies (2004-2007)
Debut: Claxton Shield: 2001
Club: South Perth

2004: Kelly made his debut appearance against the powerful Queensland lineup when he walked four in his 2.2 innings.

2005: Kelly was added to the starting rotation and was given a strange two-innings start before being relieved against Queensland. He reappeared for a similar 2.1 innings start in the semi-final against Victoria and was to take the loss after allowing the Aces the only run of the game in the semi final.

2006: Was on the roster, but did not make an appearance.

2007: Was the No.2 starter in the rotation when he found himself pitted against SA and their eventual Golden Arm Winner Dushan Ruzic. Kelly was good on the night of day 2 with his 5.0 innings start when he struck out seven and he allowed only two earned runs. Unfortunately losing 3-4. In America Kelly played professional baseball with the Independent League Kalamazoo Kings where he pitched effectively for eight saves.

2008: Kelly emerged as a star of the competition and the Grand Final MVP for the Championship winning WA team. Along with young gun Liam Hendriks, he would supply a starting pitch one-two punch that would sweep the HEAT team all the way to the Championship. Like Hendriks, he started in every series for an almost identical 4-0, 2.18ERA record, including a complete game shutout in the second Grand Final that secured the title. The performance would earn him selection in the AROOS team to contest the 2008 Beijing Olympic Games pre-qualification tournament in Taipei.

2009: Kelly play a significant role for the HEAT team that won back-to-back national title. This time Kelly took the ball as a starter in each series for the HEAT, but his overall 2-2, 4.24ERA record was more modest than spectacular. Nonetheless, his 34 innings was the most for his team and it was a vital contribution to their success once again.

2010: Kelly posted a 5.91 ERA with a 2-3 record and striking out 27 batters. He appeared eight times while starting seven.

LIAM HENDRIKS

Born: 10 February 1989
Height / Weight: 185cm / 86kg
Bats / Throws: Right / Right
Pro/ College: Minnesota Twins (2006-Pres.)
Debut: Claxton Shield: 2008
Club: Wanneroo Giants

2007: In America tied for the lead in strikeouts (52). Enjoyed a very promising debut season with Minnesota's rookie league Gulf Coast Twins owning a 4-2, 2.05ERA record with an even more impressive 11/52 walk versus strikeout ratio.

2008: As a rookie Hendriks posted an impressive 1.90 ERA in four games started and played a key role in the HEAT's Claxton Shield title. His play earned him the Rookie of the Year and also earned selection in the AROOS team to contest the Beijing Olympic Games pre-qualification tournament in Taipei. Hendriks underwent back surgery after injuring himself in spring training and didn't play professionally in 2008.

2009: After his impressive 2008 season, Hendriks played a key role in the 2009 Claxton Shield. He posted a 3.05 ERA in five appearance and three games started. He impressed Australian Selectors and was selected for the Australian National Team competing in the World Baseball Classic. In America posted a combined 5-5 record and a 3.55 ERA in 14 games started between Advanced Rookie Ball-Elizabethan Twins and Low-A Beloito Snappers.

2010: Hendriks was shut down by the Twins and did not appear in HEAT uniform. In America posted a combined 8-4 record and an impressive 1.74 ERA between Low-A Beloito Snappers and High-A Fort Myers Miracle. In Beloito Hendriks was selected as the Mid-West League pitcher of the week on April 19. He was also selected to attend the XM MLB All-Star Futures game but unfortunately appendicitis ruled him out.

DYLAN PEACOCK

Born: 29 April 1986
Height / Weight: 192cm / 92kg
Bats / Throws: Right / Right
Pro/ College: LA Angles of Anaheim (2005- 2007)
Debut: Claxton Shield: 2006
Club: Swan Districts

2006: Made his AMLB debut after a previous season of pro baseball in the USA. He produced a solid six innings start against eventual champions Queensland and, although he allowed seven hits and ended with a no decision.

2008: Was used out of the bullpen with six appearances for the competition and ended up with a very neat 1-0, 1.17 ERA record, plus one save. He may not have attracted the accolades deserved by HEAT's brilliant starting pitchers Liam Hendriks and Mark Kelly, but Peacock was an extremely important component of their Championship success.

2009: Went back to being a starter. His 29.1 innings were second most for the HEAT and his overall record of 2-1, 3.68 ERA was a most valuable contribution. Peacock collected the win with his scoreless inning of relief in game two of the Grand Final Series.

2010: As the ace of the HEAT staff, Peacock posted a 3.89 ERA with a 4-1 record in six games and 27 innings pitched. He won the HEAT Pitcher of the Year Award.

DANIEL SCHMIDT

Born: 27 April 1988
Height / Weight: 190cm / 100kg
Bats / Throws: Left / Left
Pro/ College: Philadelphia Phillies (2006-2008)
Debut: Claxton Shield: 2009
Club: Melville Braves

2009: Schmidt appeared in six preliminary games, with one start, and he was quite solid even though he allowed more than one hit per inning of work. His 1-0, 3.77 ERA record plus one save was pretty good for a Claxton Shield rookie. However, his crowning glory came when he was called upon to start the deciding third game of the Grand Final series against NSW in Perth. The 20yo pitched beyond all expectations with 6.2 scoreless innings and, although he didn't collect the win, his quality start was the cornerstone of HEAT's victory in the biggest of games.

2010: Was the number three starting pitcher for the HEAT and posted a 3.29 ERA with a 0-1 record. Schmidt appeared in eight games and had 22 strikeouts.

LUKE HUGHES

Born: 2 August 1984
Height / Weight: 181cm / 87 kg
Bats / Throws: Right / Right
Pro/ College: Minnesota Twins (2002-)
Debut: Claxton Shield: 2002
Club: Morley Eagles

2002: As a 17 year old Claxton Shield Rookie Hughes played in all seven games for the then WA Heelers .440 – fifth best among all hitters. In the finals Hughes batted .667. That year Hughes also represented Australia in their U19 'AAA' team that toured Taiwan.

2003: Hughes again topped the Heelers for batting average. In another remarkably consistent tournament the teenage second baseman batted .429. In America Hughes confirmed his promise by batting .305 in Rookie ball and was selected for the post season GCL All- Star Team.

2004: Hughes was a standout player for the third successive tournament. He batted a solid .286 during the preliminary games; stood up in the semi final when his 3-5 against Queensland elevated his batting average to .346, the 10th best batting average for all hitters in 2004. In America Hughes hit .284 with three homers and 19 RBIs in 44 games for Rookie-level Elizabethton.

2005: Once again Hughes topped the HEAT's batting averages as the designated hitter, although his .216 was not spectacular. He was batting .316 until HEAT's semi final loss to Victoria when pitching star Simon Beresford shut out his team. Three of his hits went for extra bases and has a slugging percentage of .478 slugging. In America Hughes hit .257 with seven homers and 42 RBIs in 72 games for Class A Beloit. ... Batted .202 with seven RBIs and nine runs scored in 23 games at Class A Advanced Fort Myers.

2006: Hughes again produced a very solid player for HEAT batting in the No.3 hole and holding down second base. He earned selection in the Australian team for the inaugural 2006 World Baseball Classic, which may have been helped by his grand slam home run against Chinese Taipei in the pre-selection games. In America Hughes batted .231 with four homers and 37 RBIs in 95 games with Class A Advanced Fort Myers

2007: Hughes found himself on the left side of the diamond, playing third base. Hughes batted.200 finishing in the top four for the HEAT team Hughes also produced three double and had an on base percentage of .368 . In America Hughes hit .650 (13-20) with one HR and three rbi as Eastern League Player of the Week, 6/4-10. Selected to Eastern League All-Star Team while playing for Double-A New Britain Rockcats. Hughes was then selected for the AROOS to play in the 2007 World Baseball Cup.

2008: Hughes was the regular second baseman and three-hole hitter for the HEAT and he played an important role both offensively and defensively. He batted 304 in 12 games and had 46 at bats. Hughes then earned selection with the AROOS for the important 2008 Beijing Olympic Games pre-qualification tournament in Taipei.

In America Hughes batted .319 for Minnesota's 'AA' New Britain before earning promotion to 'AAA' Rochester. Hughes was named an Eastern League midseason All-Star and earned the game's Top Star award. Was a Futures Game Selection. Named Eastern League Player of the Week on April 28. ... Hit .309 with 18 homers and 61 RBIs in 99 games between Double-A New Britain and Triple-A Rochester. Hit two homers and drove in five runs against Double-A Reading on April 23. ... Went 4-for-5 with four runs scored on May 1 against Binghamton. ... Batted .405 against left-handed pitchers. Hit .340 in 46 night games. Hit .354 in 24 April 2009: Hughes missed the early rounds of the competition with a stint playing winter ball in Venezuela. On his return he batted .385 with nine homeruns in only six games played. In the three finals, hit a stunning .538 earning him the Finals MVP. Hughes was then selected for the Australian National team for the World Baseball Classic. Hughes belted a home run against Mexico in his first at bat of the Classic. In America Hughes hit a combined .254 with stops at Double-A New Britain and Triple-A Rochester before getting injured and spending time in rehab playing for the GCL Twins.

2010: Hughes appeared in 12 games and batted a respectable .304 with three home runs. In America Hughes batted a .257 at Triple-A Rochester before being called up to the Minnesota Twins and in his first major league at bat hit a home run against Detroit Tigers.

MITCH GRAHAM

Born: 17 February 1986
Height / Weight: 180cm / 80 kg
Bats / Throws: Right / Right
Pro/ College: Philadelphia Phillies (2003 -2005)
Debut: Claxton Shield: 2006
Club: Morley Eagles

2006: As a Claxton Shield rookie Graham lived up to the hype by recording the HEAT's best batting average of .400. Graham only started in one game but appeared in four off the bench.

2007: Started every game at second base and at the leadoff spot in the hitting lineup. Graham finished fifth in batting hitting .167. His best game of the tournament was against NSW on day three when he went 2-4 in the batters box.

2008: Graham started the season at shortstop and then split time between third base and left field. He became the spark plug as the regular lead off guy for the team and rarely disappointed. Graham hit an impressive .350 average from a near maximum 60 at bats and belted one home run.

2009: Graham became the regular second baseman and batted.406 while hitting low in the order during preliminary games. Graham only committed two errors in 36 chance on the field posting a .957 fielding percentage. In the finals Graham moved to the leadoff spot where he went 0-13. But his glove was great making 11 plays and making zero errors on the field. In North America Graham played for the Edmonton Capitals and appeared in 35 games posting a .244 bating average.

2010: Graham was slotted back to the leadoff spot for the 2010 season and started every game at second base. Graham was the spark plug for the offense batting .274 and belted four homeruns. Graham once again was solid with the glove posting a .949 fielding percentage.

AUSTRALIAN BASEBALL LEAGUE (ABL)

Organisation

The Australian Baseball League (ABL) is Australia's premiere professional baseball competition, and will commence its inaugural season in November 2010. A landmark partnership between the Australian Baseball Federation, Major League Baseball and the Australian Sports Commission, the ABL will feature a 40-game season and serve to elevate baseball's profile in the Australian sports landscape and fuel participation in the game. The ABL seeks to become the most fan-friendly and accessible sports code in Australia and to showcase, on home soil, enormously talented Australian baseballers, who for decades have excelled on the international stage.

Season Structure

The season will be played over ten weeks, starting in November, with each team playing 40 games.

At the conclusion of the season, the playoffs will involve the top four teams in a three-round structure. Each round will consist of a best-of-three game series between the respective teams.

www.theabl.com.au

ABL CEO: Peter Wermuth

In his capacity as CEO, Peter oversees all business and baseball operations strategy, including marketing and branding efforts to drive ticket sales and sponsorship revenue/activation, business development, club operations, public relations, advertising and communications and on-field operations.

Charged with launching the ABL in the Australian and international sports and entertainment marketplace, his vision includes making the ABL the most accessible and fan-friendly sports code in the nation.

Peter's varied experience includes stints as player, coach and league executive. Prior to assuming his post as CEO of the ABL, he was responsible for Business Development at MLB International.

Peter, 33, earned an MBA from Columbia University's Graduate School of Business and a Bachelor's Degree in Mathematics from Pomona College.

Operations Manager: Ben Foster

Ben Foster became the ABL's first official employee in July 2009.

As a player, Foster captained the 2006 Queensland Rams Claxton Shield Championship side and had a stint in professional baseball in the US, with the Chicago-based Independent League team the Cook County Cheetahs from 1998 to 2000.

Ben served for four years as the Australian Baseball Federation's (ABF) National Programmes Coordinator, Baseball Operations. He helped steer Australian National team operations from 2006 to 2009; including two World Baseball Classics, IBAF Senior World Cups and IBAF Women's World Cups. In addition, Ben coordinated four trips to the IBAF Junior World Championships and Cal Ripken World Series.

As a former media liaison for the ABF, Ben has helped to spearhead the ABF's international efforts, especially in Japan, including several international tours by Japanese teams and the establishment of an elite athlete pathway with the Shikoku Island League.

Ben's studies focused on the written word, in both English and Spanish, as he pursued a Bachelor of Arts degree in Communications from Griffith University.

ABL AFFILIATED CLUBS

General Manager: Pat Kelly

During his MLB playing career, Pat starred with the Adelaide Giants of the former ABL.

He was drafted by the Pinstripes in 1988 and made his debut in the Bronx in 1991. His term with the Yankees included a 1994 campaign that saw him hit .273 and drive in 51 runs. In addition to his 1996 World Series ring, Kelly starred with three New York Yankees minor league championship teams. Pat also played for the St Louis Cardinals, before completing his career with the Toronto Blue Jays in 1999.

Pat served as an MLB Spring Training Coach in 2001 and 2003, he was the infield coordinator for MLBAA and was on the coaching staff for the Australian national team and has led the team into two World Baseball Classics.

Pat served as Pacific Rim Coordinator for the LA Dodgers and Seattle Mariners.

He was named by Playgirl magazine as one of the "Ten Sexiest Men in the USA" during his MLB playing tenure.

His strong commitment to public service and civic engagement includes his service as a member of the board of directors of New York City's Make A Wish Foundation.

Head Coach: Tony Harris

by Jennifer Stockman, ABF

A former player and coach in the previous ABL, Harris boasts a wealth of both domestic and international experience, including as a minor league coach with the LA Dodgers from 1992-2006. He was the Head Coach of the AAA Under 19 team that achieved a best-ever silver medal finish at the 2010 Youth World Cup. In addition, Harris was a fundamental member of the coaching staff in 2004 when Australia won a silver medal at the 2004 Athens Olympic Games.

Harris's impressive resume also boasts coaching roles with the Australian national team in the 1997 Intercontinental Cup, 1999 Intercontinental Cup (when Australia won a Gold Medal), 2000 Sydney Olympic Games, 2001, 2005 and 2007

Baseball World Cups, 2004 Olympics, 2006 World Baseball Classic, 2008 Final Olympic Qualification Tournament, 2009 World Baseball Classic and 2009 World Youth Championship.

Harris coached the Adelaide Giants in the former ABL from 1992-99 and was a three-time 'Manager of the Year' in the previous ABL. He also managed South Australia in the 2010 Dominos Claxton Shield.

Harris was the International scout for the New York Mets from 2004-08, and is currently the International scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates. He was the recipient of the Baseball Australia 'Coach of the Year' award in 2009.

Brisbane Bandits Club History

The Bandits name reflects one of the country's most recognised baseball brands dating back to 1989 and embodies the club's electrifying style of play on the field. They won the ABL Championship in 1994 and finished 2nd in 1997, going down to Perth HEAT.

General Manager, Paul Gonzalez

Few Australian baseballers have enjoyed as decorated a career as the globe-trotting Paul Gonzalez. Highly regarded for his offensive prowess, Paul played in the former ABL with the Melbourne Monarchs (1998-99), and enjoyed a six-year tenure with the Brisbane Bandits (1992-98). Other milestones of Gonzo's distinguished ABL tenure include a breakout All Star season in 1996-97, during which he hit .323, belted 15 home runs and drove in 54 RBI in 59 games. In 2002, he led the Claxton Shield and Queensland Rams hitting at a blistering .476 clip and slugging .857.

He posted a nearly 10-year career with the Australian National Team (1997-2004), and played a pivotal role in Australia dethroning international juggernaut Japan in the 2004 Athens Olympics en route to a Silver Medal – and hit a solo homerun in the Olympic Gold Medal game against Cuba. Paul has always excelled on the global stage. In his first season with the Australian National Team, he wrote his name in the record books at the Intercontinental Cup, notching a tournament-best .571 batting average and an error-free performance at third base. His electrifying play earned him tournament MVP honors. He played a critical role two years later at the 1999 Intercontinental Cup where Australia shocked the vaunted Cuban side in the Gold Medal game.

In 1998-99, he inked on with Melbourne and after donning the Monarchs uniform, went on to earn a nod to the All Star Game and ownership of the top spot in the league in the walks and on base percentage categories. His accomplished tour of duty included playing time in Italy and Japan as well.

Born in Texas, Gonzalez starred with Texas Christian University and was one of the country's most highly touted junior prospects. In 1987 he captured MVP honors at the World Junior Championships. He also logged seven years of professional playing time in the US (1990-96), reaching AAA level.

Head Coach: David Nilsson

Nilsson enjoyed a celebrated seven-year career in MLB with the Milwaukee Brewers from 1992-99 that saw him become the first and, to date, only Australian to be named a MLB All Star.

A 2008 inductee in the Sports Australia Hall of Fame, he played in eight seasons of the previous ABL, and led the former Bandits to a championship victory as a player in the 1993-94 season. Nilsson played an integral role in Australia's Gold medal 1999 Intercontinental Cup win and Silver Medal showing at the 2004 Athens Olympic Games.

Following a spectacular 1999 All Star season that saw him bat .309, Nilsson elected to forego his free agency so that he could return to Australia to play for the 2000 Olympics team, where he led all Olympians with a .565 batting average. Over the course of his seven year Big League term, he logged 837 games, posting 789 hits and 105 home runs.

Nilsson holds the record for batting average (.351) and slugging average (.661) in the former ABL, in which he played for Brisbane, Daikyo Dolphins, Gold Coast Clippers, Melbourne Reds and Waverly Reds. He was also a player-coach with Brisbane in 1997.

Nilsson's storied career also includes playing time in the Japanese and Italian professional leagues. Beyond suiting up for Australia in the 2000 and 2004 Olympics, he also represented the country in the inaugural 2006 World Baseball Classic.

Club History

Local fans can lay claim to Canberra's inclusion into the League after a resoundingly successful "Lets do it Canberra" campaign that saw nearly 5,000 baseball enthusiasts and sponsors pledge support.

General Manager, Tony Fraser

Tony tried his hand at the game of baseball as a student at US and International Schools. After a career that has spanned more than two decades and seen him hold leadership roles in six sports, Tony returns to Canberra to serve as GM of the Canberra Baseball Club in the club's inaugural ABL season.

His career in sports began with a three-year term at Women's Hockey Australia as National Media and Development Manager. His sports business journey took him across the Bass Strait where he served as CEO of the Tasmanian Cricket Association. Tony has subsequently held GM posts at Netball NSW and the ACT AFL where he worked closely with the ACT government to bring three North Melbourne Football Club games to Canberra each year.

Switching codes, Tony signed on as Business

Development Manager for the NRL that saw a new world record attendance set for a Rugby League fixture with almost 100,000 passing through the turnstiles. He was also formerly a weekly sports columnist for the City News in Canberra.

Tony holds a Diploma of Teaching from the Australian College of Physical Education in Sydney and a Graduate Certificate of Sports Business and Recreation Facility Management from Victoria University in Melbourne.

He is currently pursuing a candidate for a Master of Juris Doctor at the University of Canberra and resides in Wanniaassa.

Born in Great Lakes, Illinois, Schrenk has been a great ambassador to the game since making his Major League debut for the Philadelphia Phillies in 1999.

Schrenk comes to the Cavalry with an impressive resume of playing and coaching experience that spans 23 years.

Drafted directly out of high school, Schrenk pitched in the Chicago White Sox, Baltimore Orioles, Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Phillies systems ascending to the Big League level with Philadelphia in 1999 and 2000.

Following a stint with the White Sox, AAA affiliate, Charlotte Knights in the 2002 season, Schrenk retired and turned his focus to coaching.

Beginning his coaching career as Pitching Coach for the college summer team, Carolina Copperheads, Schrenk was quickly picked up by the Phillies and joined Hall of Famer Mike Schmidt in taking charge of the Class A Clearwater Threshers for the 2004 season.

As a Player Development Pitching Coach for the Phillies, Schrenk has taken four teams to the playoffs in seven seasons with two championship wins, first with the Lakewood Blueclaws in 2006 and then with the Threshers in 2007.

Having had a hand in developing 23 pitchers to date currently pitching in the Major League, Schrenk is currently coaching with Philadelphia's league-leading Class A affiliate, the Lakewood Blueclaws.

Club History

The Aces' name pays homage to the Victoria Aces who competed in the former Claxton Shield competition. As a term long used for the top fighter pilots in their class, the name also reflects the status of Victorian baseball as the most successful state with a record 22 Claxton Shield championships. Victoria has spawned the careers of 64 players who have gone on to play professionally with MLB affiliated clubs

General Manager, Stephen Nash

Stephen earned a reputation as one of the Australian Football League's (AFL) most astute talent evaluators. He was part of three premiership winning sides in his tenure as an AFL administrator.

In a career that has spanned 23 years, the Melbourne native worked for three of the country's most iconic sports franchises in the Carlton Blues, West Coast Eagles and Western Bulldogs, winning flags with Carlton in 1982 and West Coast in 1992 and 1994.

Stephen has held various development roles over the years with an increasing level of responsibility. As a Development Officer for Carlton, he led the club's recruiting charge and coordinating play in the U/19 competition. He also served as GM Victoria, for the West Coast Eagles, overseeing the club's operations outside Western Australia. Stephen also led the club's efforts to recruit Chris Judd.

A lifelong baseball devotee and ardent Yankees fan, Stephen segued from the AFL to baseball. Prior to signing on with the Melbourne Aces, he served as the CEO of Baseball Victoria.

Head Coach, Phil Dale

In what could be considered as 'history repeating itself', Phil Dale served as foundation manager for the Waverley Reds in 1989 (in which he pitched), leading the side to the inaugural League championship, and winning Pitcher of the Year, MVP, and Manager of the Year honours. He won another championship with the Reds in 1994-95, before he moved to the Melbourne Monarchs in 1995-96, where he played until his retirement in 1999.

Dale is considered a legend of Australian baseball, and became the first Australian to win a baseball scholarship to the US. He started his career as a pitcher with Georgia Southern University, before being signed by MLB's Cincinnati Reds, where he ascended to the club's "AA" affiliate, Chattanooga.

After his playing career, he worked as a minor league coach for Cincinnati and the Atlanta Braves. He returned home in 1989 to compete in every season of the previous ABL, and in 1998, he pitched for Australia in the Baseball World Cup.

Dale's exceptional baseball career includes a litany of coaching accolades. His term as a manager began following his retirement in 1999. He has served as the pitching coach for the Australian national team, a role which has seen him lead the squad into three Baseball World Cups, two World Baseball Classics, and three Olympic campaigns, the most successful of which was in 2004, when Australia famously knocked off baseball powerhouse Japan to win the silver medal. Dale has also been involved in the Major League Baseball Academy Program (MLBAAP) since its inception 10 years ago.

In 2005, Dale was inducted into the Baseball Australia Hall of Fame. He is also a scout for the Atlanta Braves, covering the Australasian Pacific Region.

General Manager, Eddie Bray

Eddie's dedication and commitment to promoting and developing Australian baseball began through his service as a volunteer with the Claxton Shield. The Adelaide native has enjoyed a long and successful career in the food business spanning three decades. Most notably, he served as a National Category Manager with Manassen Foods, National Category Manager with P&N Beverages and National Sales Manager with Campbell Brothers.

Prior to his appointment as General Manager of the Sydney Blue Sox in September 2009, Eddie held the same post with the NSW Patriots.

Eddie is charged with maximising club revenue and developing the fan base in Sydney as well as elevating the Blue Sox brand in the sports and entertainment marketplace.

He holds a Master of Management in Organisational Systems from Monash University and completed his high school studies at Strathmont in South Australia.

Head Coach, Glenn Williams

As a former ABL player who boasts an impressive international playing portfolio, Glenn set a benchmark for youth professional signings in 1993 with a contract for a $1.3 million signing bonus with the Atlanta Braves as a 16-year old; and went on to play in the Major League system for over a decade.

Notorious for his mentoring ability, and unwavering team spirit; he was credited by his peers as being one of the most inspirational and motivating players on the 2004 Athens Olympic campaign, in which Australia won a silver medal.

After signing with the Atlanta Braves, the switch-hitting shortstop spent six years in the Braves organization before joining the Blue Jays in 2000. He inked with the Minnesota Twins in 2005. After a solid start Glenn was called up by the Twins to the Major Leagues. He proceeded to hit safely in every game (13) tying a Major League record. Glenn ended his Big League career with an impressive .425 batting average. His playing career was cut tragically short by a crippling shoulder injury.

He enjoyed a distinguished career on home soil as well. He was a member of the 2004 national team that captured Olympic Silver in Athens; the 2000 Games in Sydney. Glenn also compiled an enviable career in Australian professional baseball. He helped pace the Sydney Blues to a 1996 championship and was named to Sydney's Team of the Decade. From 2003-07, Glenn was a key member of the NSW Patriots Claxton Shield team, hitting above .320 in three of those four campaigns. He made his managerial debut in the 2009-10 season with the NSW Patriots, leading the club to a third-place finish. Glenn is a part-time scout with the Detroit Tigers.

HEAT HISTORY

Sourced from Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Alcohol Thinks Again PERTH HEAT are one of six teams that compete in the Australian Baseball League.

Australian Baseball League 1989-99

The ABL formally got underway in October 1989, representing Australia's first professional "major league". Officially, the first ABL game was contested between Perth HEAT and Adelaide Giants at Parry Field in Perth on 27 October 1989, with the Giants winning 8-5.

Perth HEAT won the ABL championship in 1990-91, when Graeme Lloyd pitched the HEAT to a Game 5 championship win on the Gold Coast against the Daikyo Dolphins to take the series 3-2. A second championship was won in 1996-97.

The HEAT were the second-most successful team in the league, winning the title twice and finishing runner-up a further three times.

In 2005, the name was resurrected by the Western Australian baseball team competing in the Claxton Shield. This re-branding of the team, together with the facilities of the new Tom Bateman Reserve in the suburb of Thornlie, reportedly contributed to increased interest in the sport in WA, with many exhibition matches attracting more than 2,000 spectators, very high compared with usual Australian attendances for the sport.

WA hosted the 2007 Claxton Shield carnival at Baseball Park, with games also being played in the nearby regional centres of Rockingham and Mandurah. Spectator numbers were between 1,000 and 1,500, and the grand final, eventually won by Victoria against NSW, attracted 1,500. However, the HEAT was unable to win a game at home.

In late 2007, the name was further applied to the state's junior representatives, with the Under 14, Under 16 and Under 18 teams being renamed the "WA State HEAT".

The HEAT won the 2008 and 2009 Claxton Shield titles. In 2008, it won the Southern Division with an 8-4 record and swept NSW in the best-of-three final in Sydney. In 2009, the HEAT finished the regular season with the best record, at 12-4, and came back from losing the first game to beat NSW in three games in the Grand Final. The WA side led the deciding third game throughout but blew a 2-0 lead in the top of the ninth inning, with the game set for extra innings before outfielder Dan Floyd hit a walk-off single to deliver back-to-back titles for Perth.
